The Ards and North Down Policing and Community Safety Partnership (PCSP) Strategy for 2025-2028 aims to improve community safety, build awareness of the PCSP and its activities and engage with local communities in meaningful ways. This strategy has been developed with input from extensive consultations, surveys, crime data, socio economic data, and a “Turning the Curve” exercise, which involved PCSP members. The strategy defines clear strategic priorities to ensure that the partnership’s work effectively addresses the needs of the community while responding to emerging issues.

The Ards and North Down PCSP Strategy for 2025-2028 sets out a clear roadmap for enhancing community safety and trust in policing. By prioritising effective delivery, improving community safety, and building confidence in policing, the strategy aims to create safer, more cohesive communities in the Borough. The focus on collaboration, consultation, and communication ensures that the PCSP will be responsive to community needs, while ongoing monitoring and feedback will guide the PCSP in adapting to emerging challenges. The strategy lays the groundwork for a safer, more connected community for all residents.

6. Please provide details of the aims and/or objectives of the Policy, Strategy, Plan or Public Service.

Strategic Priority 1: To ensure effective delivery in response to local need, and improve the visibility and recognition of the work of the PCSP through effective consultation, communication and engagement

The first strategic priority emphasises the importance of effective delivery in response to local needs and increasing the visibility of the PCSP. Community engagement, consultation, and communication are key components to ensure the partnership is working in collaboration with local statutory partners, agencies, businesses, and the community sector. The strategy outlines several initiatives to ensure ongoing two-way engagement, with a focus on problem-solving to address local issues as they emerge. By utilising multiple platforms including social media, traditional press and promotional events, the PCSP aims to raise awareness of its work and ensure that its activities are clearly communicated to the public. These efforts are designed to develop trust and visibility for the partnership, ensuring that stakeholders are informed about the PCSP’s role in enhancing local safety.

Strategic Priority 2: To improve community safety by prioritising and addressing local community safety issues, tackling crime and anti-social behaviour

The second priority focuses on improving community safety by addressing local crime and anti-social behaviour (ASB). The strategy outlines a collaborative approach to tackling these issues, relying on partnerships with statutory bodies, elected officials, and the community. The PCSP will prioritise interventions to address the most pressing crimes and behaviours affecting local communities. This approach involves delivering targeted programmes that are evidence-based and measurable, ensuring that the impacts of these interventions are assessed and adjusted as needed.

The strategy places a strong emphasis on early intervention and collaborative problem-solving to address the root causes of ASB and crime. By engaging with community members and organisations, the PCSP will help create safer spaces, especially for vulnerable individuals. Also, the strategy highlights the importance of horizon scanning, allowing the PCSP to respond to emerging community safety issues effectively, as highlighted by the new and innovative small grants programme.

Strategic Priority 3: To support confidence in policing, including through collaborative problem solving with communities

The third priority focuses on strengthening public trust and confidence in policing, ensuring that local communities feel heard and empowered. Key actions in this priority include providing opportunities for local accountability, particularly through hosting public meetings including consultations for future plans and developments. These initiatives aim to make policing more transparent and accessible, fostering positive relationships between young people and the police. The strategy also incorporates efforts to address the harm caused by paramilitarism, criminality, and organised crime, reinforcing the commitment to improving public safety and building stronger, safer communities.

Policing and Community Safety Partnerships (PCSPs) play a vital role in fostering safe and resilient communities across Northern Ireland. Established to bridge the gap between communities, local councils, the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI), and other statutory partners, PCSPs bring together representatives from various sectors to address local safety and policing concerns. By developing collaborative approaches and supporting community-led initiatives, PCSPs enhance public safety, promote community cohesion, and work proactively to address issues such as anti-social behaviour, substance abuse, hate crime, and domestic violence. PCSPs also aim to improve community confidence in the policing system by providing opportunities for local engagement, feedback, and accountability, thereby ensuring that policing reflects the needs and priorities of each unique community.

PCSPs are unique in that they are locally driven partnerships that operate at the council level, giving them a clear mandate to address the specific needs of the communities they serve. By coordinating between local authorities, statutory organisations, the PSNI, and community and voluntary organisations, PCSPs can design their initiatives to target the most pressing issues in each area. They work to ensure that communities feel both engaged in and accountable for the policing strategies impacting their neighbourhoods. This collaborative approach allows for a more responsive, inclusive, and flexible system of public safety that empowers communities to take an active role in their well-being.
